BY TOM CASADY, CO. AGENT

Howard Smith, Jr., of spray to control flies on Kinston was telling me that one day about a teenage boy who was riding with him on his tractor. It seems that the boy turned to wave to someone, lost his footing and fell. As he fell, he brushed against Smith and Smith brought the tractor to a stop before the tractor passed over the rider. Luckily no one was injured, but I might remind everyone that if we can get a good rain this week that our crops will not be severely damaged. We need a real good rain now to prevent damage to older corn and to keep cotton and peanuts from becoming stunted. Of course, pastures, gardens, and lawns have been recently watered. Let's be extremely careful around tractors and equipment.

The Soil Testing Laboratory at Auburn recommends that 1 pound of nitrogen per 1000 square feet of lawn be applied every 8 weeks. This amount of actual nitrogen will keep your lawn green. Centipede lawns should receive only one application of nitrogen in the spring. Nitrogen should be spread evenly. If you are using ammonia nitrate, 3 pounds of this material will give one pound of actual nitrogen.

Worms in hogs are costing Coffee County producers thousands of dollars each year. Worm damage shows up in stunted pigs, pigs infested with worms require a lot more feed to put on 100 pounds of gain than pigs that are free of worms. If you have hogs, they are wormy. If you have not wormed your pigs and sows recently, it will pay you to go ahead and worm them now.

Some of our best producers do a good job of spraying their cattle for flies and other insects. Hayward Taylor of Elba, James and Ellis Wise of Fairview, Charles Gibson of Enterprise, Route 2, and several other growers

Elba County Commissioner Doing His Job Well

Flournoy Whitman, Coffee County Commissioner from District 3, reports that the State Highway Department, Maintenance Division inspectors have just completed an inspection of all roads in his district and sent him copies of the reports on each road. The commissioner was well pleased, and rightly so, as several of his shape, according to these roads graded less than 80. This is a program made every unusual as these inspectors six months. A program is now underway to cover every aspect of the roads' condition, bridges, culverts, ditches and pairing the bridges on all facing. He also stated that dirt roads in his district. he has just pulled all We commend Commissioner Whitman on these reports and the condition and that his roads through reports and the condition out his district are in good of the roads in District 3.

Wallace Proclaims Dairy Month

Governor George Wallace signed a Proclamation declaring June as "Dairy Month" in Alabama. This month Alabama dairymen join their colleagues from over the Nation, along with dairy plant personnel, in the celebration of June Dairy Month. In conjunction with the American Dairy Association, the nation's dairy industry selected this campaign to proclaim the virtues and to boost the products of the cow. The cow is an animal that does deserve some recognition for mankind for no beast has given more to man than Old Bossey, the producer of our milk and dairy products. Not only is the American Dairy Association encouraging the use of more dairy products during June, but it is also paying tribute to the men and women who make it possible for all of us to be healthier and happier and have a more sound economy.

This year June Dairy Month celebrates its 29th Anniversary. Through the efforts of the American Dairy Association, June is now another month in the promotion of Milk and Dairy Products and through the Association's efforts will be left out in promoting the great dairy industry during June as well as the balance of the year. June Dairy Month theme this year is "Go Cool 'N' Care-Free Dairy". Food-Take Milk Along. Immediately following the signing of the JDM Proclamation, Brice Moore, Manager of ADA of Alabama, and Evangeline Collins, Alabama Dairy Princess, began a month-long tour of the State in an all-out effort to promote milk and dairy products to the consumers.

Little Leaguers Sound The Call "Play Ball"

Little League baseball will get underway in Elba tonight (Thursday) in the new Jaycee Park near the intersection of the Troy and Brantley highways. There will be two games on the first night, the Pirates vs. the Yankees and the Tigers vs. the Indians.

Tuesday night, June 14th, will see the Cardinals vs. the Pirates and the Yankees vs. the Giants.

Game time each night for both leagues will be 7:00 P.M. with everyone urged to attend, according to Willard Martin, Recreation Chairman.

Elba Girl Attending Girl's State

Carla Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Drexel Cook, of Elba, is among 250 high school girls from around the state attending the 23rd annual "Girl's State" at this week.

The delegates to the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored event are there to learn by experience the workings of City, County, and State Governments.

REGISTERING AT BOYS STATE - These five boys were among approximately 575 who registered Sunday at the 28th annual American Legion Boys State at Auburn University. They are (left to right) Harold Banks of Opelika, Chuck Barber of Opelika, and Larry Jacobs, Joel Inman and Butch Oggs all of Elba. Joel was elected a councilman Monday in the city he was assigned. The weeklong event will allow the boys to participate in all phases of state, county and city government.

Swallows Attends Scout 2 Week School At LSU

The Alabama-Florida Council of the Boy Scouts was represented in Miami last week by Mr. Arnold Swallows, Council Explorer Chairman, and Scout Executive. The 1966-67 theme, "Breakthrough for Youth", was launched by Col. John Glenn, U. S. Marines (Ret.). The major objective is to replace a unit in reach of every boy in America.

The Executive Board will make their annual trip to the Boy Scout Reservation on June 28th. They will dine with the Scouts and observe some of the skills they have learned.

Troop 37, of Elba, is scheduled to attend summer camp in the near future.

During the three years at LSU, students receive a total of 180 hours of classroom instruction, 30 hours of review work, organized evening study and written final examinations at the conclusion of each year's session. Since the School started in 1950, certificates of graduation have been awarded to 1,616 bankers. "This program is making a substantial contribution toward improving and enlarging the type and quality of banking services provided in the South," said Orin H. Swayze, director of the School and executive vice-president of First National Bank, Jackson, Mississippi.

This year, the student body comes from twenty states and Puerto Rico. Besides a wide scope of class lectures, instruction also involves group work on banking and business case studies.

Series Of Parties Compliment Bride-Elect

SEATED TEA

Miss Freddie Johnson, whose marriage to Charles Pearce will take place this month has been honored with a series of parties during recent days.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Lamar Rainer, Sr., Mrs. Lamar Rainer, Jr., Mrs. Freddie Rainer, and Mrs. Tommy Thompson gave a seated tea at the home of Mrs. Rainer, Sr.

Beautiful floral arrangements, with the colors purple and pink predominating, decorated the party room. The coffee table held a large bouquet of gardenias. The honoree wore a becoming blue velvet sheath with a tucked bodice, and a corsage of gardenias. The corsage and a crystal salad bowl with salad servers were gifts from the hostesses to the honoree. A party plate was served to twenty guests.

PATIO PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Miller entertained with a patio party at the Country Club Thursday evening. Complimenting Miss Johnson.

The decorations were in yellow and included arrangements of roses placed at vantage points. The steps leading to the pool were outlined with hurricane lamps tied with yellow ribbons and holding tapers of the same color.

The punch table was attractively decorated, and

Anderson, Johnston Wedding Held In Columbus, Georgia

Miss Rebecca Anne Anderson, daughter of Mrs. William Johnston, of Columbus, Georgia, became the bride of Charles Alan Weaver, son of Mrs. Lee E. Killingsworth and the late B.A. Weaver, recently at the Porter Memorial Baptist Church in Columbus.

The Reverend Henry C. Grammer performed the ceremony, and wedding music was presented by Miss Linda Broadwall, organist, and William F. Nichols, soloist.

A sunburst arrangement of pink and white flowers and green foliage and tree candelabra formed a background for the ceremony.

Billy E. Weaver, brother of the groom, was best man, and usher-groomsmen were Alton Garmto and Bobby Sasser.

Miss Patricia Faye Moore, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Pamela Jane Moore, a cousin, was the flower girl.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length sheath of pink crepe, made on Empire lines, and carried an arm bouquet of red and pink roses. The flower girl wore white eyelet and carried a basket of rose petals and pink carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Charles B. Moore. She wore a gown of organza and Alencon lace with scooped neckline, short sleeves and a bodice embroidered in lace and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt, forming a chapel train, was re-embroidered with a cascading design of Alencon lace. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, roses and lilies of the valley, centered with a white orchid.

The bride's mother wore a sheath of turquoise lace and a white orchid corsage. The mother of the groom wore sky blue and a white orchid.

Mrs. Johnston entertained with a reception at the Bibb City Woman's Club after the ceremony. The bride's book was kept by Avajo Crook, daughter of Doctor and Mrs. Donald Crook, celebrated her 12th birthday last Saturday night with a party at the pretty new home of the Crooks on the Enterprise Road.

Avajo Crook Celebrates Twelfth Birthday

A picnic table on the patio held a decorated birthday cake.

The gay group of boys and girls roasted weiners which they enjoyed with potato chips, cookies, and other party foods.

The decorations carried out a color theme of red and white.

Games and records provided entertainment for the evening. Mrs. Crook and her mother, Mrs. B.D. Nelson, directed the games and assisted in the weiner-roasting.

Sharing this pleasure with Avajo were approximately thirty guests.

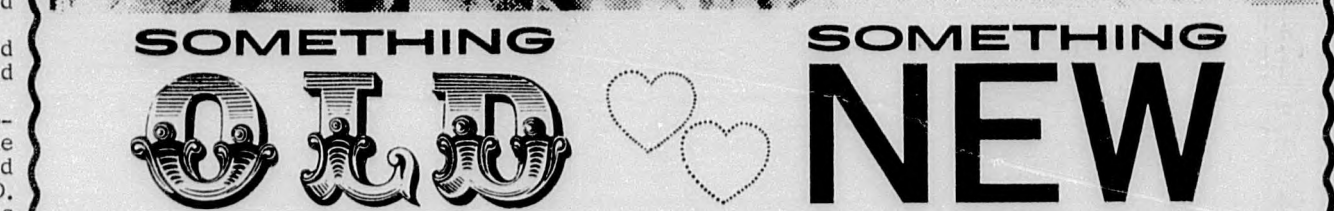

Sewing Club Holds Annual Party

The Brantley Road Sewing Club had its annual party Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. T. T. Rhodes.

A covered dish supper was served from a table set up on the patio. The table held a beautiful arrangement of mixed flowers.

Club members present were, Mrs. D. S. Bryan, Mrs. Flurnoy Whitman, Mrs. Mayo Prescott, Mrs. W. R. Crook, Mrs. Price Ringo and the hostess. Guests included Mr. Flurnoy Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deal, Miss Totsy Rhodes, Mrs. T. B. Bryan, Major D. S. Bryan, Mrs. J. M. Bonneau, and Mrs. Eva Gaster.

Miss Yvonne Bryan, after completing her first year of teaching at Brewton High School, spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Bryan. Miss Bryan will attend graduate school at Alabama University this summer.

These—without anything borrowed or blue—can give to her Wedding Day the sure promise of happiness.

Something old? A faith in God such as has been the foundation of life for millions of Christians before her. A simple conviction found in the religious instruction she received as a child, nurtured in regular worship at Church, ready to go with her through the years.

Something new? A love for the one she has consented to marry. A tender devotion that will grow richer and deeper as they share the sunshine and shadows of life.

With these two—the "something old" that lives in her soul, and the "something new" that thrills in her heart—she comes to her husband. And if he comes to her bearing the same treasures, their marriage cannot fail!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mrs. L. S. Rainer, Jr., returned home Wednesday from a Montgomery hospital where she underwent minor surgery.

Reverend David W. Carter, Pastor of the Elba Methodist Church, was returned to Elba for a third year by the Alabama-West Florida Conference meeting last week at Huntingdon College, Montgomery, Alabama.

The Elba Church was recognized at Conference for its outstanding work during the past year in the three specific areas of Missions, Evangelism, and Education. It was noted that last year more people joined the Elba Church on profession of faith than any other Church in the Andalusia District. The new Church School was also completed during this Conference year.

Mr. Boyd Murphree was the delegate to the Annual Conference from the Elba Church. Also attending were Mr. Elbie Brazellon, who is a member of the Conference Board of Evangelism and local vice-chairman of the Official Board; Mrs. Walter Cox, local Chairman of the Commission on Education; Mr. Walter Cox, local Chairman of the Official Board.

Reverend Weldon Gregory, brother of Mr. Leonard Gregory who lived in Elba until last summer, was appointed as District Superintendent of the Andalusia District. Reverend Gregory served for many years as Executive Secretary for the Conference Board of Education and for the last several years as Pastor of the Gadsden St. Methodist Church in Pensacola, Florida.

Louie Jones, of New Brockton, is busy selling tomatoes and other truck crops. W. J. Smith, of Kinston, Robert Stephens, of Damascus, and several other Coffee County truck-crop growers are busy selling their products also.

We have a greatly increased interest in sweet-potatoes, too. Clinton Weeks, Fred Hataway, and Until we get a good general rain, let's all re-double our efforts to prevent fires. If you are planning to do some burning or clearing up, either wait until it rains or be sure to have plenty of help to control the fire.

The officers and directors of the Coffee County Farm Bureau met the other night and set the date for the annual meeting on July 22 in New Brockton. Farm Bureau President, Carl Brooks, announced several committees. Tentative plans were made to sponsor the Maid of Cotton contest and the talent and queen contests.

C. B. Phillips, our Auburn University Extension Specialist in Hog Production, has just completed a bulletin entitled, "Some Answers to Questions Commonly Asked by Hog Growers."

In those few places where we have had plenty of rainfall the past few days, the corn is simply beautiful. T. H. Carr, who lives just south of the Zion Chapel Baptist Church has some real good corn. Coffee County growers have used more nitrogen than usual. This is going to pay off in bigger yields if we can get rainfall.

L. L. Hataway, Kinston Rural Mail Carrier, was asking about fire ant poison the other day. He said that most folks did not know it was available. Coffee County has a fire ant committee made up of Dupree Martin, Brown Bryars, and E. Howell. Bardsley, May, many farmers are suffering with skippy cotton stands. Here is one solution and a profitable one. You can get one pound of tons of it at this price. If you want to order some fire ant bait through his committee, get in touch with me.

Coffee County cattlemen are urged to be extremely careful while distributing nitrate fertilizers on their pastures this summer. These fertilizers, many of which are tasty to cattle, are very poisonous to the animals. In fact, it takes less than one ounce of it per 100 pounds of body weight to kill a cow. Dispose of fertilizer sacks and watch herds carefully after applying nitrate.

Quoting from the USDA News-- "The American farmer has set another plate at his dinner table. He produced enough farm products last year to supply himself and almost 30 other persons, one more than he took care of in 1962."

Roy Sims and Phillip Martin, president and secretary of the Paschal's Milk Producers' Association, respectively, have given us some good ideas for using milk. June is Dairy Month in the United States and Coffee County milk producers participate in this promotional program.

Nutritional folks tell me this milk is one of the best food items from a food value standpoint. We all need to drink more milk.

Cattlemen who have not vaccinated their calves for blackleg probably ought to do this right away. Reports from Geneva County indicate that the disease is spreading. Several calves in the past few days from blackleg. Chances are that Coffee County cattlemen will not be affected, but it's a little bit risky to see your veterinarian.

THE ENTERPRISE LIONS CLUB recently recognized the outstanding youth leaders in the Coffee County 4-H Club program. This award was based on leadership in the school, the church, and the community. Pictured left to right are: Virginia Sanders, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent; Claire Homsby, New Brockton 4-H Club; Bill Whigham, Mt. Pleasant 4-H Club; and H. B. Thompson, Assistant County Agent. Claire and Bill were the first place winners in the county-wide contest. The club members will not be affected, but it's a little bit risky to see your veterinarian.

Troy June 17, Billy Eager-ton and Teresa Killingsworth, both of New Hope, will represent Coffee County at this contest. This program is sponsored by the cooperatives of the area.

The 4-H Fish and Wildlife Camp will be held on Tuesday, June 22, at Fort Rucker. Four county 4-H Club boys will attend this one-day camp. The program for the day will be filled with many and varied activities. I'm sure that each one who attends will gain a great deal of educational information and enjoy the day's events.

Warning Against "Cracker Ball"

Fireworks Issued

George P. Larrick, Commissioner of Food and Drugs, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has announced that parents, retail dealers and health officials should be on the lookout for a new kind of fireworks which can be very dangerous to children. The fireworks have the appearance of small colored candy balls and are sometimes marketed under the name of "Cracker Balls." Easily mistaken for candy, these fireworks caused children from Ohio and the District of Columbia to be injured when they bit into them.

Commissioner Larrick said FDA inspectors are on the lookout for these novelty items with a view toward legal action unless they are labeled to meet all requirements of the Federal Hazardous Substances Labeling Act. He added that any stocks which can be shown to be in violation of the Federal labeling law will be removed from the market under the seizure provisions of that statute. Samples obtained thus far are imports from Japan.

Peanut Grower's Position To Be Strengthened

The position of the peanut industry will continue to be strengthened in the 18-39 years, according to Ralph Wooton, advertising manager of Standard Oil Company (Kentucky), "We decided to start our 1965 gasoline advertising drive directly at this market, and our effort," he said, "will include attendance at a few speeches at trade conventions, personal contacts with manufacturers, certain trade publicity, and raising special events in the industry and a newsletter that goes to the peanut trade. We are trying to find new markets at home and abroad and help with any problem exports, and here at home, we will continue with our four basic goals: to get manufacturers to try the new types of peanuts we are growing; to assist manufacturers in selling more products made from our peanuts; to help manufacturers introduce new products which may enlarge our market; and, to furnish information to new companies that may want to manufacture and market peanut products."

Brooks also pointed to a promotion program on new packaging and new products. "This program, which includes candy," he pointed out, "will have two main phases. Test marketing and research assistance to any manufacturer of peanut products who would like to introduce a new package that might fit new sales trend in the industry. If the first, Second, we are pushing any new peanut product using our peanuts, growing jointly by Georgia and Alabama growers."

"The peanut promotion highlight this month," Brooks said, "will be Peanut Day, June 14, at the World's Fair. The Southeastern Peanut Association will be in annual session at the same time. Thus, we will have another opportunity to focus attention on the peanut and to further the 75th anniversary of the development of peanut butter, which comes this year."

"In appealing to the exploding 'Youth Market,' said Mr. Wooton, "we have three chief aims in view: to tap the immense sales potential that now exists; to influence family purchases; and to establish the Chevron brand name for a future which itself is growing bigger. Today's teens and young adults face a life span many years longer than that of their grandparents."

HORSESHOE BEND NATIONAL PARK

There is hardly a school boy who has completed the ninth grade that does not know about the Battle of Horseshoe Bend but relatively few adults know about the National Military Park... the only one in Alabama... which was established on August 11, 1959. A part of the National Park System, Horseshoe Bend National Military Park covers 2,040 acres and is open seven days a week for visitors.

If you are thinking about the time you went there and all you saw was a stone monument placed in memory of Andrew Jackson, then you should go back again. There has been built on the site of one of this country's most historic moments a beautiful building housing a lounge, refreshment area and museum. There is no charge to go through the museum and for a student of American and Alabama history it is a must.

The defeat of the Creek Indian Nation at the Battle of Horseshoe Bend was the major event of the War of 1812 in the lower south. Captain Andrew Jackson, a middle Tennessee politician with a talent for enterprise and leadership, routed the hostile Creeks at Horseshoe Bend on March 27, 1814, opened Alabama and other parts of the Old South to white settlement, and established his military reputation.

In 1813 the Creeks were living over large parts of what is today Georgia and Alabama, since early in the 1790's when a treaty with the United States set the boundaries of the Creek Nation, they had lived in peace with American frontier settlements.

Nearly twenty years the Creeks had followed Indian Agent Benjamin Hawkins' program for improving the Yattata, yattata, yattata... have you heard? You'll find BEAUTY SALONS fast in the YELLOW PAGES. Where your fingers do the walking

Every 20 seconds, somewhere in our nation, another American celebrates his 65th birthday. Nine out of 10 persons who reached the age of 65 in 1964 are eligible to receive social security retirement benefits, according to Harry N. Scott, social security district manager in Dothan, Alabama.

Mr. Scott also said that there were three factors contributing to this high percentage. First--the amendments of 1961 lowered the work requirements for the program. Second--more types of work are covered by social security. And third--the retirement test has been liberalized so that a person over 65 may earn more than $2000 a year and still get some social security benefits.

Although more persons are covered by social security, the Social Security Administration believes that there are many persons over 65 who have not gotten in touch with their social security office or checked on their accounts. This belief is based on records showing the number of persons drawing retirement benefits and estimates of the number of persons over 65 living in Barbour, Coffee, Covington, and better living conditions among the Indians.

Civil War in the Creek Nation caused a division between the Upper and Lower Creeks, with the Upper becoming more and more hostile toward white settlers. Tribal punishment for Creek attacks on these white settlers deepened the break.

Then in February, 1813 an incident sharpened the split among the Creeks and aroused the frontier. A party of hostile Creeks, returning from a visit to the Shawnees, was told that war had broken out between the Creeks and the United States and on that false report, some Creeks wiped out seven frontier families.

The Indians responsible were tried by a Creek tribal council and executed. This resulted in reprisal after reprisal by both sides, and on August 30 a thousand warriors under William Weatherford of the Upper Creeks, fell upon Fort Mims 20 miles north of Mobile. In the attack over 500 men, women and children were slain. This was the final straw that broke the back of the Creek Nation.

The park is on Alabama 49, 12 miles north of Dadeville, and some 10 miles east of Alexander City. Visiting hours are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Inside the lounge and museum you will see a reproduction of what is today Georgia and Alabama, since early in the 1790's when a treaty with the United States set the boundaries of the Creek Nation, they had lived in peace with American frontier settlements.

Mr. Scott suggests that people over 65 who have not checked upon their social security should do so soon. Even if a person continues to work beyond 65, some social security benefits may be payable.

Persons may also draw social security at a reduced rate after they reach age 62, and Mr. Scott said, the rate of application for early retirement remains high. But his concern is for those people over 65 who do not realize they may be eligible for monthly retirement benefits.

People may obtain more information about social security retirement benefits by writing or phoning the Dothan social security office. The telephone number is 794-3161.

each hook to make removal simple.

When boiling eggs, remember that a gentle simmer produces a tender white and cooks the egg evenly.

If you discard the liquid in canned foods, you are losing as much as one-third of the water-soluble vitamins and minerals.
